

“Hear him before he dies in some ridiculous way”

Brendon Sinclair

Best selling author. Business leader. Tasmanian.

Looking for a speaker to inspire, entertain and educate?
A speaker with years of hands-on experience and success?
A speaker with practical advice that actually works?

HOW IS HE STILL HERE?

Brendon is a business guy with a portfolio of success, adventure and stories that'll have your head spinning and jaw dropping ... and have you wondering how on earth he's still here.

He's the author of one of Australia's most profitable ever business books.
...who leaped into a freezing river in Outer Mongolia to save a mate.

He was, at the height of their popularity, Australia's largest exporter of Ugg Boots.
...and motorcycled the world's most treacherous road through the Indian Himalayas.

He once sold a staggering $250,000 worth of a $50 cream online in just one hour.
...and crashed in a crocodile infested creek in remote Northern Territory.

He's been at the forefront of marketing for 20 years as the CEO of a leading Queensland advertising and marketing agency.
...and cycled 4,500 kms across Australia in just 30 days with his 15 year old son for charity.

He's had an ABC radio segment talking all things marketing, an e-newsletter with 250,000 subscribers, and has a vast array of experience marketing public companies, national brands, millionaire business people and more.

...he has hunted with the famed eagle hunters of Mongolia, abseiled out of choppers, completed Ironman triathlons, and, most recently, smashed his motorbike into a kangaroo at 100 km/h on an outback highway – and lived to tell the tale. Obviously!

So... are you ready to hear about it?

Advice based on 20 years experience.

Advice based on real-world experience and real-world success.

Advice based on not trying to sell you stuff you don't want or need.

As a popular speaker – giving talks on marketing, leadership and team building – Brendon weaves humour, passion and real life experiences into an engaging, informative and inspiring talk to business groups, university classes and conferences.

Hear the secrets to his success

How he had a client's product featured on Hamish & Andy's hit radio show for 3 months at zero cost (and generated over $300,000 in equivalent earned media).

How a box of chocolates led to almost $1 million in business for a client. It's so stupid and lucky it defies belief!

With his clients spending more than $1 million on Facebook and Google advertising, he'll give you the insiders look at what truly works in the world of digital marketing.

Speaking topics include:

The future of marketing your business

The secret to standing out in today's busy world

How to get the biggest bang for your buck
